

Medical University of South Carolina

Ray Greenberg, MD, PhD

Presented to: South Carolina Commission on Higher Education

August 15, 2013

Changing What's Possible.

Education

Susanne Thomas, PhD

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools reviewed the MUSC five year report and found no areas for improvement or additional reporting requirements

Education

Virtually all degree programs experienced record numbers of applicants

Changing What's Possible.

Education

Deborah Deas, PhD

The LCME reviewed the College of Medicine and continued its accreditation

Changing What's Possible.

Education

Michael Sweat, PhD

New Director appointed for the MUSC Center for Global Initiatives

Changing What's Possible.

Clinical

- Continued to rank as State's Best Hospital
- US News & World Report ranks MUSC among best in the nation in 6 specialties

Adult: ENT, Kidney, Rheumatology

Pediatric: Heart, Kidney, and GI

- Ranked High Performing in Cancer, Gynecologic Disorders, Orthopedics and Cardiology and Heart Surgery

Clinical

Patrick Cawley, MD

Completed successful search for a new Executive Director of Hospital Authority

Changing What's Possible.

Clinical

Opened a state-of-the-art ambulatory care facility in Mount Pleasant

Changing What's Possible.

Clinical

Completed a successful engagement to develop strategic improvements in finances and begin implementing changes

Research

- Rosalie Crouch, PhD received the Governor's Award for Excellence in Scientific Research

Changing What's Possible.

Research

GI CANCER DIAGNOSTICS

Carolyn Britten, MD

- Recruited from UCLA Cancer Center
- Director of Phase I Clinical Trials
MUSC Hollings Cancer Center

Changing What's Possible.

Research

Chanita Hughes-Halbert, PhD

CANCER EQUITY

- Recruited from the University of Pennsylvania
- Cancer Prevention and Control
- Health Equity

Changing What's Possible.

Research

CENCER STEM CELL BIOLOGY AND THERAPY

- Recruited from the Moffitt Center Cancer & Research Institute
- Hematopoietic stem cell therapy

Xue-Zhong Yu, MD

Changing What's Possible.

Research

INFLAMMATION & FIBROSIS

- Recruited from the University of Pittsburgh
- Development of diagnostics and therapies for treatment of organ fibrosis

Carol Feghali-Bostwick, PhD

Changing What's Possible.

Research

$220 - $230M received in research funding, despite the federal sequester and the depletion of ARRA funding

Changing What's Possible.

Research

Tom Finnegan, Director

Implemented the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship and recruited director

Changing What's Possible.

Research

Launched the Institute for Applied Neurosciences with $10 M of investment and philanthropic support to speed discoveries to commercialization

Changing What's Possible.

University - Wide

A new funds flow model was implemented after several years of planning and the units are working well on the new responsibility centered management model

Changing What's Possible.

University - Wide

Raised $75 M in private gifts and pledges virtually equaling to last year's total (which included a $15 M gift)

Changing What's Possible.

University - Wide

Received the largest increase in state appropriations in more than 15 years with

- * $12.4 M to support telemedicine
- * $600 K to support a cancer mobile van
- * $2 M to support a digital media incubator, and
- * $2.3 M for deferred maintenance

Changing What's Possible.

University - Wide

Launched a complete renovation of the College of Nursing facility

Changing What's Possible.

Budget Requests/Legislative Priorities

- Restore core funding
- Continue telemedicine support
- Fund Bond bill
- Fund Deferred Maintenance
- Expand authority status