

Dr. Hendrikus (Hennie) van Bulck was born in the Netherlands. He earned an undergraduate degree from the Netherlands Institute for International Business - NOIB Nijenrode, as well as a MBA and Ph.D. in International Business and Marketing from the University of Georgia. At the University of Georgia, he studied under the guidance of Dr. William R. Darden who was one of the true pioneers of modern marketing research and early advocate of psychographic research and causal modeling. His professional credentials include his CPA certification and he is accredited in business valuation (ABV) by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

He also has a SC Producer License for Life, Variable Contracts and Accident/Health and he has passed the FINRA Series 6 (Investment Company Products/Variable Contracts Representative) and Series 63 (Uniform Securities Agent State Law) examinations. He has over 28 years of experience in private practice and he has served on the faculties of the USC Sumter, Clemson University, and St. Andrews Presbyterian College where he also served as chair of the Business and Economics Program. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), South Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants (SCSCPAs), Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants (GSCPAs), Physician's Viewpoint Network (PVN), the Medical Group Management Association (MGMA) and the South Carolina Tax Council. He has published seventy scholarly and professional articles in the United States and Europe. He was USC Sumter faculty-at-large nominee for the John J. Duffy excellence in teaching award for 2010 and was recognized as a 2010 Center for Teaching Excellence (CTE) Faculty Fellow. He received five research awards from the International Academy of Business and Public Administration Disciplines (IABPAD). His students frequently rank among the top 20 in a global online strategic business game.